SECTION 7: TAX WITHHOLDING ELECTION

Federal law requires us to withhold 10% of the taxable portion of your distribution for federal income tax. You may elect not to have federal income tax withheld or you may elect a higher withholding rate. Even if you elect not to have federal income tax withheld, you may be responsible for paying estimated taxes. You may incur penalties under the estimated tax rules if your payment of estimated tax and withholding, if any, are not sufficient to satisfy your tax liabilities.

Your distribution may also be subject to state income tax withholding. Some states require that state income tax be withheld when federal income tax is withheld. Additionally, some states have minimum withholding requirements. If you live in one of these states, we will withhold state income tax as required by your state. In other states, withholding is voluntary. If you do not make a withholding election, or if you do not specify a withholding amount, we will withhold 10% federal income tax and 3% state income tax, unless a different amount is required by your state.

STATE SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS:

Arizona residents: If you want to have Arizona taxes withheld, you must submit form A-4P.

Michigan residents: If you were born after 1946, we are required to withhold state income tax from the taxable portion of your distribution, unless you elect not to withhold using form MI W-4P.

New York residents: If you want to have New York state taxes withheld, you must submit form IT-2104-P. Withholding is only permitted on periodic payments payable over a period of longer than one year.

Please read the following information carefully prior to completing the Lifetime Income Benefit Rider election form. Keep these instructions for future reference.

Lifetime Income Benefit Rider Election Form

LEVEL PAYMENT OR INCREASING PAYMENT OPTIONS

Level Payment Option: After your LIB payments begin, at each contract anniversary, if your contract value is greater than your IAV, we will increase your IAV to match your contract value. Future payments will be based on your new IAV.

Increasing Payment Option: We will increase your LIB payments every year on your contract anniversary, unless your contract value decreases to zero. If your contract value reaches zero, we will continue sending you LIB payments, but the payment amounts will no longer increase at each anniversary.

SINGLE LIFE PAYOUT VS. JOINT LIFE PAYOUT OPTIONS

Single life payout: We will send you LIB payments for the remainder of your lifetime. LIB payments are based on your age, sex, and Income Account Value (IAV) (or Contract Value, if higher) at the time you activate your LIBR.

Joint life payout: We will send you LIB payments for the remainder of your lifetime. After your death, if your spouse elects a spousal continuation of your contract, we will continue making LIB payments to your spouse for the remainder of your spouse's lifetime. Both you and your spouse must be at least 50 years old to elect the joint life payout option. LIB payments are based on the age of the younger spouse. This option is only available for spouses.

CHANGING YOUR BENEFICIARY FAQ

Q: Why do I need to change my annuity contract beneficiary to my spouse?

A: After your death, payments will only continue to your spouse if your spouse elects the spousal continuation option. If your spouse does NOT elect the spousal continuation option, LIB payments will stop, even if you elected the joint payout option. To ensure your spouse is able to elect the spousal continuation option, please complete section 4 of this form to name your spouse your sole primary beneficiary.

Q: What happens to the beneficiary instructions I already have on file?

A: The beneficiary designation instructions under section 4 of this form will take priority over, but will not replace, any prior beneficiary instructions on file. This means, unless you change your beneficiary in the future, we will pay the death benefit to your spouse based on the instructions on this form. However, if your spouse is not alive when you pass away, we will pay the death benefit according to your most recent beneficiary instructions.

Q: What happens if my spouse passes away before me?

A: If your spouse is not alive when you pass away, we will pay the death benefit according to your most recent beneficiary instructions. LIB payments will stop at your death.

Q: How do I name new contingent beneficiaries?

A: You can name new contingent beneficiaries by completing our Change of Beneficiary form. To ensure the spousal continuation option is still available to your spouse, you must still list your spouse as your primary beneficiary on the Change of Beneficiary form.

Q: What happens if I change my beneficiary in the future?

A: As the contract owner, you may change your beneficiary in accordance with the terms of your contract. If your spouse is not your primary beneficiary at the time of your death, LIB payments may not continue to your spouse, even if you elected the joint payout option.

Q: If I change my beneficiary to my spouse, will my spouse be required to elect the spousal continuation option when I die?

A: No. At your death, your spouse will have all options available to beneficiaries. However, the LIB payments will only continue if your spouse elects the spousal continuation option.

LIB PAYMENTS

Any withdrawals you take above the amount of your LIB payments (other than RMDs) are considered excess withdrawals and will reduce the amount of your future LIB payments.

If you stop payments and restart payments at a later date, we will apply your original benefit payout percentage to future payments.

Once your payments begin, we will no longer credit any interest to your IAV, even if you stop or pause your LIB payments.
